1. What is this product about?

AFFIN ISLAMIC Credit Card-i is a Shariah compliant credit card, offered with facility limit granted by AFFIN ISLAMIC Bank (“the Bank”) to you. Should there be any amount of the facility utilised by you that has not been settled in full on or before a specified date, the unsettled amount will be subject to profit rate.

2. What is the Shariah concept applied for AFFIN ISLAMIC Credit Card-i?

- AFFIN ISLAMIC Credit Card-i (hereafter called “Credit Card-i”) is based on Shariah principle of Tawarruq.
- Tawarruq is a series of sale contracts where the buyer buys a commodity asset from a seller for a deferred payment and subsequently sells the commodity asset to a third party for cash at a price less than the deferred price, with the objective of obtaining cash.
- Under Wakalah concept (via signing-off the Credit Card-i application form), the Cardmember (‘muwakkil’) appoints the Bank as an Agent to conduct and execute a particular buying and selling transaction. For this purpose, the Bank being an Agent to the Cardmember enters into Commodity Murabahah transaction. This is based on Murabahah (cost plus profit), whereby a specific Shariah compliant commodity (“the Commodity” consists of crude palm oil (CPO), rubber or any other commodity as advised by the Commodity Supplier) will be identified and used as an underlying asset for the purchase and sale transaction.
- Upon obtaining approval, the Bank as an Agent to Cardmember shall subsequently on the next Business Day enter into a Commodity Murabahah transaction. The Bank shall purchase the Commodity on cash basis (at a price equivalent to Purchase Price) from commodity Broker A. The Bank will then sell the Commodity to the Cardmember (represented by the Bank as his Agent) at the Sale Price based on the Murabahah (which shall be payable by the Cardmember to the Bank. The price represents the Purchase Price plus profit amount payable by the Cardmember. Then, the Bank being the Cardmember’s Agent sells the Commodity to Broker B on spot basis in which shall be credited in the form of facility limit for Cardmember’s utilization.

3. What do I get from this product?
